Bread, pastries baked on site

FOODWORKS Turvey Tops supermarket has expanded its product range by opening its own bakery.

Foodworks now employs its own bakers and makes its bread and other bakery products which are ready for sale almost immediately.

The bakery allows Foodworks to employ more local people, provide quality, fresh produce and tailor its range to meet customer demands.

"We wanted a consistent supply seven days a week and available on public holidays," manager Jess Brien said of the decision to open the bakery.

"We try and source locally where we can and products are made fresh every day, not the day before."

Foodworks supermarket, which is locally owned, is located at Turvey Tops shopping centre on Fernleigh Road, Wagga.

Riverina producers show wares

FOODWORKS Turvey Tops held a market day on Thursday at its Fernleigh Road premises.

While also unveiling its new on-site bakery, Foodworks showcased Riverina food growers' stalls displaying local produce.

Some of the exhibitors to have food available for sampling were Pacific Fresh (mandarins, Leeton), Holbrook Eggs (free range) and Argyle Meats (beef and lamb grown on farm at Harden).

Other stalls included Rinaland Invest (pumpkins, oranges and cauliflower, Griffith) and Beechworth-produced apple juice.

Foodworks supports other local producers and suppliers on a regular basis.

Argyle Meats held a barbecue for Foodworks customers to sample some of their home-made sausages.

"We like to support locals at Foodworks Turvey Tops and one way that we do this is by buying goods direct from the farmer," Foodworks Turvey Park manager Jess Brien said.

The bakery makes bread and other products fresh on a daily basis, not the day before.
