CIVIC THEATRE
SEASON 2013

Classic musical will leave

There's nothing dodgy about this artful duo

PERHAPS one of the most memorable characters who brought to life Dickens' tale in the classic 1969 movie was The Artful Dodger played by Jack Wild.

The affable cockney rascal will be played by two novice actors in the Wagga Wagga Civic theatre production - Sam Campbell-McCrea, 12, and Caitlyn Davis, 13. The early mail is Sam will be treading the boards on opening night and Caitlyn will appear in the finale.

A Kildare College student from Junee, Caitlyn says she struck gold when she landed the role.

"The Dodger's a great character to play ... I love my part," she said.

"I get to perform one of the main songs of the show 'Consider Yourself, which will be a thrill."
