Rang Peter Fox for information about the charges that had been laid in relation to James Fletcher. Peter said that in relation to the trial that would begin on Monday week there were 50 or 60 allegations but the police had not laid charges in all matters. He said there were seven charges of an extreme nature. He said the charges involved anal and oral intercourse.

PF said a second victim had come forward but at this stage did not want to press charges at this stage. This person would be giving evidence in support of the first victim. He said that this situation could change and this victim may take action in the future. He said in relation to this victim the charges were of a similar nature to those brought forward by victim 1. he said in this case there were not as many allegations.

He said the charges in relation to the second charges these are of a less serious nature and relate to indecent assault issues. There is only one charge.

Peter said he would be preparing a subpoena for the school to produce the documents required. He said was looking for information that indicated that victim 1 and victim 2 were at school at the times and dates they had indicated.
