Trust us, we're great companions

THE Christmas season hasn't seen the usual influx of abandoned animals at Goulburn Companion Animal Facility, but the pound still has plenty of cute dogs, cats and even ferrets looking for a home. Ranger Greg Appleton was quite taken with two boxer staffy cross pups when the Post visited yesterday. They, along with five tiny domestic shorthaired kittens, are available for adoption. # Heritage look off target

Chain rejects 'window dressing'

By DAVID BUTLER

A PUSH by three councillors to force Goulburn's new Target store to incorporate heritage images into its storefront was quashed at the most recent council meeting, when the majority sided with the retail chain.

Initiated by Cr Neil Penning and supported by Crs Carol James and Andrew Banfield, the group hoped to include some locally significant images into 27 strip windows built into the Auburn and Bradley Street store front.

Instead, advertising graphics portraying grey silhouettes of people and birds on a white background will adorn the windows.
