Country Charm is everything its name suggests. This long established business is now owned and managed by Terriane Boulding. Terriane commenced work 18 years ago, straight out of school she was employed as the business florist.

She loved the work and, two years ago, purchased the building and business, taking great pleasure in being able to continue her work with flowers, gifts and homeware. With her team of ladies, mum, Cheryl Scorgie, Debbi Hogan, Susie Weeks and Annie Jones, the wonders of Country Charm are available to locals and travellers 7 days a week.

Terriane prides herself on the variety of goods available and the changing window displays of her business. She has no set items but takes care in choosing beautiful, entertaining and modern items from personal items such as Jewellery, soaps and body products to stunning homewares to enchant the buyer. There is also a luxury range of possum and merino wool products - scarves, hats and gloves.

The foundation of her business is the flowers, being the only florist in Yass and registered with interflora, Country Charm is kept busy with weddings and deliveries to the region, including Murrumbateman and Bowning.

Country Charm's position between two food outlets provides much custom, particularly on weekends when visitors are amazed and thrilled to visit a store with such charm and individuality after the mass production of city malls.

When not at work, Terriane is busy with her 3 boys, aged 5 to 13, who love go-carts and footy.

S.M.D. Beauty Rooms

SMD Beauty Rooms was first opened in 2008 in Yass at Robbo's Gym. After a short year and a half, business had out grown the premises and relocated to 76a Comur Street. Owner and operator, Simone Puckett, a qualified therapist of 9 years, along with therapist Emily Witt, have built a large clientele catering to all age groups, both men and women. SMD Beauty provides a range of beauty treatments in a professional, private and welcoming environment.

SMD Beauty has had a few bumps along the way with Emily falling ill last year, but thanks to our very loyal and understanding clients we got through. Emily, now salon manager, with her inviting nature, is back providing her usual high standard of work. Simone due to have her 3rd child in August will be back and ready to provide all services for spring and summer.

We pride ourselves in the high quality of work provided and look forward to helping our already large, loyal clientele as well as new.

A big thank you to our clientele, without all of you SMD Beauty would not be so successful.

Someone once said "create the life you would love to live", so I did! 3 years ago I opened a preloved clothing boutique with no idea if it would succeed or not.

I'm thrilled to say it has definitely succeeded

I wanted to create a shopping experience that was unique, welcoming, and sales that are based on trust and product quality. My business represents me and reflects my values, and for those reasons I take my business very seriously. My shop offers a more environmentally responsible retail experience and customer service that is genuine and friendly.

I believe the quality of our lives is determined by our ability to make choices and take risks; the shop is hard work, there is a lot of work behind the scenes but its success feeds my passion and I see the future of Label Love just getting better and better.

Women in Business

Kylie Connors has learnt to roll with the punches and embrace change from an early age, having moved from Sydney to Jugiong at just 14.

"I guess it taught me to just get on with things, appreciate new experiences and not be afraid to get out of my comfort zone."

This attitude explains Ms Connors' quick ascendancy from being a cook and barista at Liberty Café to manager of the Club House Hotel.

From working at the Liberty, Ms Connors became a casual at the Club House, then a full-time staffer and second-in-charge before taking on the supreme role three months ago. She is looking to improve the reputation of the Club House through fine dining, live music and themed nights. Ms Connors says her regulars make her working life easy. "I enjoy being here because my regulars are awesome and we can all share a laugh."

Hair Spiral

Alison Rhind has worked in the world of cuts and curls, perms and colour for over 30 years.

A country girl from western NSW, Alison went to college in Melbourne to train as a hairdresser. Once qualified, she needed a job and, seeing an advertisement for a hairdresser in Yass, she applied. Arriving in Yass in 1982, she commenced her career as a fully qualified hairdresser with Hair Spiral and from there progressed to the owner manager in July 1988. Alison and Lisa Curtis, who has been with Hair Spiral for almost 10 years, specialise in colour and cuts, catering from the very young to elderly. Alison comments that hair dressing has changed greatly over the years and the focus has moved from perms to colour. She stresses the importance of using the best products to keep hair in top condition. Hair Spiral's loyal clientele are well aware of the benefits provided by Alison and Lisa, while new clients are impressed with the range of products and experienced friendly service.
