Take Thyme Out at the Manor for an elegant lunch or dinner

STEP back in time at the Manor to enjoy Thyme Out's multi-award-winning modern Australian cuisine. Wagga's 2012 Sydney Morning Herald Good Food Guide entry, the delightful Thyme Out at the Manor offers you the opportunity to switch off your phone, sit back and savour the ambience and food artistry. Located at the Manor – a beautiful historic Wagga home at 38 Morrow Street in the city's CBD – Thyme Out combines a gracious air with fine dining values and of course the thoughtfully designed menus. With Thyme Out at the Manor's owner and Head Chef Ryan Dedini devising superb new menus every three months there are options to suit all tastes and appetites, including divine gluten-free and vegetarian choices. Asked about the creative inspiration behind his menus, Ryan is reflective. "It's a combination of factors," he explained. "I eat out a lot, particularly in Melbourne, Sydney and Canberra, to get a sense of what is new." "I also buy a lot of cookbooks, and do quite a bit of research online too." "TV cooking shows are also a good source of information." "I bring together ideas from all of these sources to develop unique and memorable menus using the freshest local produce." "The dishes speak for themselves."

Opened in September 2008, Thyme Out at the Manor has received awards every year since its inception, including:
 ■ 2009 ACT/Southern NSW Awards for Excellence Best New Restaurant – Southern NSW
 ■ 2010 ACT/Southern NSW Awards for Excellence Restaurant of the Year – Southern NSW
 ■ 2010 ACT/Southern NSW Awards for Excellence Best Contemporary Australian Restaurant – Formal

■ 2011 NSW – Southern Best Contemporary Australian Restaurant
 ■ 2011 NSW – Southern Restaurant of the Year – Southern
 ■ 2012 NSW – Southern Contemporary Australian Restaurant – Finalist
 ■ 2013 NSW – Southern Contemporary Australian Restaurant – Finalist (winner yet to be judged)
 Wishing Thyme Out all the best for this year's ACT/Southern NSW Awards for Excellence!
