Art hub of the central west

FOUNDED in 1986 and built around the modernist core of the Mary Turner Collection, the Orange Regional Gallery exhibits contemporary Australian paintings, Outsider art, ceramics, sculptures, moving images and public sculptures.

Averaging 25 exhibitions per year, the Gallery is a hub for the visual arts in the central west.

With a permanent collection of more than 500 pieces, the Gallery is also a partner in the Orange Arts + Health Strategy, a ground breaking initiative which provides access to original works from the permanent collection for staff and visitors at Orange Health Service.

There are three gallery spaces which differ in scale, allowing for large-scale blockbuster exhibitions as well as more intimate collections.

Visit Orange Regional Gallery, at 149 Byng Street, call 6393-8136 for more information or visit the website www.org.nsw.gov.au.

Framing business keeps customers in the picture

FRAMING Marvellous will now be open on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays or by appointment.

Opening hours will remain at 10am to 6pm, but as owner Mal Key's hobby (performing with Gabe Middleton in the duo Gabemusic) has become more popular he cannot guarantee to be open on the other days.

So rather than disappoint his clients on those days he has decided to make the change.

Framing Marvellous will continue to provide their excellent service and range and look forward to seeing you soon to frame your precious artwork.

The business specialises in framing original artwork, but also does individual custom-designed frames for cross stitches, tapestries, mirrors, jerseys and memorabilia.

Mr Key said the business has been serving Orange for the past 17 years and has built up its reputation through positive word of mouth.

CHANGE: Framing Marvellous will open on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays or by appointment.

"We want to give a big thank you to our customers for their support over the last 17 years. We look after people while they are here," he said.

Although the business's operating hours have changed Mr Key said if the new hours don't suit, customers can always call 6361 7550 to arrange a suitable time.
