

LEARNING TOOL: Anna Shaw, Sab and Alec Rodgers and Lee Britton at Orange Regional Conservatorium. Photo: STEVE GOSCH

Create beautiful music at the Con

MUSIC plays an important part in all of our lives, and the team at Orange Regional Conservatorium strives to provide excellence in community music making, education and engagement.

Music education is especially vital in the lives of children and young people.

It provides children with focus, enhances literacy and numeracy, and is a valuable tool in learning to work as a team in an ensemble situation.

Orange Regional Conservatorium aims to work with children at an early childhood, primary and high school level, and, just as importantly, offers programs and individual tuition for adults.

Orange Regional Conservatorium offers many programs and ensembles for people as young as 18 months, right through to 80 years and beyond.

Music Director Donna Riles said

Orange Regional Conservatorium offered tuition in all instrumental disciplines, from strings, guitar, woodwind, brass and percussion to voice, keyboards and even bagpipes and ukulele, with music staff of the highest calibre.

"We are proud to have some of the best music teachers and performers in the state," she said.

"Our professional musicians are of a high standing, with a great depth of experience."

In fact, Orange Regional Conservatorium was placed in the top five teacher results in the Australian Music Examinations Board examinations.

"The Con strives to make music making fun and a socially engaging activity," Mrs Riles said.

Enrol at Orange Regional Conservatorium for 2014 by calling 6361-7974, or visit the website www.orangecon.org.au for more information.

ORANGE REGIONAL CONSERVATORIUM is now accepting enrolments for 2014.

Why not learn an instrument, get some vocal coaching or join one of our many instrumental ensembles and choirs.

We also offer early childhood music for children aged 18 months to 5 years.

Contact us now and kick start your new year's resolution!

6361 7974
www.orangecon.org.au

Men loath to register for service

This week we explore the history of Orange from the Central Western Daily dated Saturday, January 23, 1965. So, once again, let's turn back time...

Turn back Time

Tania Naven

service regardless.

ONLY a small number of Orange's young men whose birth dates make it compulsory for them to register for the National Service ballot have so far obtained the necessary forms.

Spokesman for the Commonwealth employment Service at Orange pointed out that young men who are obliged to register and who fail to do so are liable to a penalty of up to 50 pounds and to be called up for DOWN south over the holidays a surf club boat crew rowed more than a mile out to rescue a fishing boat thought to be in trouble. The lifesavers thought the men from Orange aboard had been signaling with mirrors that they were in trouble. But they found the "mirror signals" were reflections of the sun from the fishermen's beer cans.

LONDON, Friday - 90-year-old Sir Winston Churchill still fought grimly today against cerebral thrombosis that has brought him close to death. The pace of political life in Britain has slowed since the news of Sir Winston's serious illness was released a week ago.

TONIGHT only at the Strand Theatre is Let's Twist, the first film of the new dance sensation now sweeping the world. At the Coronet Theatre, The Fall of the Roman Empire is now showing with Sam Bronston and Sophia Loren starring.

Lex and Lee Graham with their grandson Thomas Graham.

Cricket carnival

ENTHUSIASTIC cricket players, parents and coaches descended upon Orange on Monday for the Under 13 Western Zone Under 13 cricket carnival.

These photos were taken on Wednesday at Jack Brabham Park as South Coast took on ACT under 12s, Dubbo played Wagga and the Illawarra played Penrith.

Photos: STEVE GOSCH

Lex and Lee Graham.

Anthony Atlee and Jacob French.

Belinda Atlee, Jodie Nelson, Ben Cook, Leanne Cook and Willie Nelson.

SATURDAY

Orange Region Farmers' Market is on at the north court (Orange Showground if wet), 8.30am to 12.30pm. Gold coin entry. Great selection of local produce

Orange Society of Model Engineers public running day, Matthews Park (cnr Anson and Moulder streets). Rides start 1pm. Gold coin for rides. Please make sure your child wears enclosed footwear for the ride.

The Diary

Nadine Morton

SUNDAY

Vietnam Veterans

Association meets at the Ex-Services Country Club, 10.45am, followed by a barbecue.

AA meet at Kenna Hall, 84 Hill Street at 5pm. ID meeting. Graham on 0447 839 026

Rotary Sunday Markets, Robertson Park, 8am to noon.

Orange Evangelical Church meets at Bowen Public School, Park Street, 10am, 4pm and 6.30pm. Contact 6362 1025 or visit www.oechurch.org.au.

www.centralwesterndaily.com.au