

Murrurundi, Willow Tree & Wallabadah

Order your gravel here

THREE kilometres from Willow Tree on the Merriwa Rd is Willow Tree Gravels.

The family-owned and operated business supplies and delivers all the required materials for structural fill through to road base suitable for farm roads, house pads and shed sites – and now also supplies bulk blue-metal products.

The business regularly supplies materials to the RMS, UHVA and ARTC as well as the local construction industry and individuals. Delivery is guaranteed to be on time to exactly where you need it and Willow Tree Gravel's trucks can deliver loads from five to 32 tonnes.

Got a big job and need the right equipment to get it done?

The business also has a plant-hire division with a grader, roller, excavator, dozer, bobcat and a loader available for hire.

It also operates a mobile crushing plant that is mounted on tracks for quick access to and from sites.

Willow Tree Gravels is open Monday to Friday from 7am to 5pm and there is a weighbridge on site. Weekend appointments can be made by calling 6747 1430 or 0429 668 165 during normal business hours.

Small means a greater focus

WALLABADAH Public School has a proud history spanning 146 years. It is located only 30 minutes south of Tamworth and four hours north of Sydney.

Wallabadah Public School is the focus of the local community and enjoys strong public support. The children are well catered for in small, multi-age classes that focus on traditional values and quality teaching.

The school's experienced and dedicated teaching staff are active in promoting academic excellence with a strong emphasis on literacy and numeracy. Students, teachers and parents have nurtured an atmosphere of co-operation, encouragement and pride in the school – which enables each child to achieve their best and successfully meet the school motto, Excellence in Learning.

Strong academic programs, excellent facilities in a picturesque setting and dedicated staff offer the students the best opportunities for success. Wallabadah caters for a diverse student population and provides an enrichment program as well as support for children through its Learning and Support Teacher program.

Wallabadah's unique size means students have the benefit of small class groups as well as enjoying an extremely high level of participation in academic, sport, music and leadership opportunities.

The school has a positive culture that ensures the emotional wellbeing of all. The school seeks to promote maximum parent and child participation and ensure each child gets the best education possible.

QUALITY EDUCATION:
Wallabadah Public School Year 3 students Jayde Smith and Joshua Hall.

All-day festival on October 19

THE historic White Hart Hotel in Mayne St, Murrurundi will be jumping with the sound of music on October 19.

Established in 1842, the hotel is hosting a music festival headlined by Australian rockers Dragon.

The event, a fundraiser, is being held at the White Hart Hotel Murrurundi Festival Ground and gates open at 1pm.

The support bands playing during the festival include Tamworth band

Crazy Train and a show by Le Blitz who are getting back together for the first time since the 1980s.

Acts include The Lamplighters, The Slones and Matt O'Leary – and the launch of Brenton Larkin's new CD.

Tickets are available at www.trybooking.com or at the hotel. The hotel's restaurant is open Monday to Sunday for lunch between noon-2pm and dinner from 6pm-8pm Monday to Saturday.

GOOD TIMES: Murrurundi's The White Hart Hotel will be rocking this October for a good cause.

Expert, no-fuss transport

CABAN Transport has been looking after the farmers in the Willow Tree district since 1979.

Owners John and Merrill Caban and their six permanent staff haul bulk grain and fertiliser and they understand the man on the land's need for professional, no-fuss transport.

The business has six trucks on the road and ready to go for timely pick-up and/or delivery from Willow Tree to as far afield as Newcastle, Moree, Glen Innes – and all places in between.

In fact, whenever you need a bulk pick-up or delivery and very professional, efficient service all you have to do is give John Caban a call on 6747 1370 for more information.
