Finishing with a bang

Bulls president Paul Cooke winds the clock back to the start of the season...

FIRST up I'd like to congratulate all three teams on making the 2013 Central North Rugby Union Grand Final this weekend.

It's been a tremendous effort by all the players, coaching staff and supporters over the course of the season and without them, obviously the season wouldn't have been possible.

Paul King, Damien Kelly, Peter Copeman, Josh Connell and Kylie Dawson have ensured this season has been one of the most successful periods in the club for quite some time.

We've had sporadic success over the years, but it's very rare to have all three grades participating on the last day of the season.

When we all got together way back in February for the sevens tournament which ran for three successive Friday's most of the boys were happy to be throwing a footy around.

I'm sure if you asked any one of them where they'd be in September some would have thought about it for a while before not actually giving an answer.

We started the season with a tough first-up performance against Pirates and from that match we built momentum which saw us go through the season in first grade undefeated until the last round.

On that occasion, this weekend's opponents Narrabri proved too good and we get a chance for revenge on Saturday.

Second-grade weren't to be outdone by their first grade counterparts and under the watchful eye of Josh Connell, they've had an outstanding season themselves.

On the odd occasion they've lost players to first grade, but it's a credit to the rest of the second-graders that they haven't missed a beat. Their clash with Gunnedah this weekend will be a beauty.

This brings me to the under 18 kids and the fantastic job Kylie has done with them over the course of 2013.

At the start of the season we thought a little bit outside the square and forged an alliance with Farrar High School and the boys have paid us back in the best possible fashion.

They're a very good rugby side and I'd encourage everyone to get to Weebolla early on Saturday to watch them in action.

If you've never been to a Bulls match before, I would highly suggest getting to the ground on Saturday and giving the Moree boys as much support as you possibly can.

We know Narrabri will bring a lot of fans and we want to have that home ground advantage, but we're relying on the community to help us out.

The forecast is promising, so what better way to spend a Saturday afternoon in spring than at the grand final. See you there!

THE Moree Champion enjoyed taking photos of the Weebolla Bulls throughout the season.

These are some photos we took from the semi-finals at Moree.

We would love to share all of our photos with our readers after each game but sometimes we don't have enough room in the paper.

Although we always make sure we upload a gallery to our website so all photos can be viewed.

The Moree Champion will be at the grand final to take photos too.

Any photos we've taken throughout the year are available to purchase, just pop into the office.

The Bulls' international contingent of Sylvester Joseph, Maciu Latabua, Jack Hughes and Sav Ratu.

International flavour

WHAT do you get when three Fijians and a Welshman walk into a bar?

Sounds like a really bad joke, doesn't it? But there's nothing funny about the Moree Bulls international contingent who will all appear on grand final day at Weebolla Oval this weekend.

Sav Ratu, Maciu Latabua, Jack Hughes and Sylvester Joseph all play rugby as a part-time activity after moving to Moree mainly due to work.

Ratu works as an accountant, Joseph is a solicitor, while both Latabua and Hughes do the hard yards on farms out of town.

"We all came here mainly for work and for an opportunity. I've been here a few years, but these other three blokes all came to town this year," Joseph said.

Ratu arrived in Moree from the big smoke after living in Newcastle last year.

"I wanted to get a different perspective on what country life is like and I'm enjoying it," he said.

Hughes, the Welsh backpacker has his own story to tell.

"It's a mad one really. I only came on a two-week holiday at the start of the year and never went home. I was here for two weeks after Simon (Dunlop - club vice president) brought me to the club and haven't left since. I'm the good luck charm," he laughed.

So for the first few weeks of his stay, the flying winger was gliding around Weebolla

Oval in just a pair of runners until his gear turned up.

"I met up with a friend I haven't seen for a few years and I weighed up my options, flew to New Zealand, got my visa, came back and went straight into working out on a farm and playing rugby.

"I had to get my rugby gear sent over so I was down to the bare minimum for a few weeks, but as soon as it came over I felt like I was at home," he said.

The last member of Moree's awesome foursome is second-grade forward Latabua - the quietly spoken of the lot.

"It's my first year here, working on the farm and rugby was a bonus," he said.

Joseph said Latabua was the "gentle giant" of the group and he lets his actions do the talking on the field.

While the international contingent cops some good-natured ribbing from their teammates, they certainly give as good as they get.

"We bring our own bit of flavour to the club. Everyone at the club embraces it, just some more so than others, but most is said in jest. There are a lot of jokers in the club, but they don't make you feel like an outsider," Joseph said.

The three Fijians and the Welshman could very well be the ones walking into the bar with their heads held high on Saturday night. Let's hope so!

2013 Rugby Union Grand Final

AW1213698

Date with destiny

SIX years is a long time.

But it's the length of time the Moree Bulls have had to wait since last tasting grand final glory.

Standing between the Bulls and another premiership is Narrabri - the team who halted the Bulls' winning streak at 17 when they arrived at Weebolla Oval and left with a 29-25 victory in the final round of the premiership.

Not only does Moree have unfinished business with Narrabri, they've got their own score to settle on grand final day on the back of their 2011 grand final defeat to Pirates.

Bulls coach Damien Kelly believes his side is better equipped this year than they were two years ago. "There's more quality in our side this year compared to 2011.

"We do have the core of that side remaining, but there are four or five additions that have made a difference."

This Bulls side has a tough forward pack which has provided a platform for the backs to score points with monotonous regularity as they racked up 777 points throughout the season.

While Narrabri were doing a job on four-time premiers Pirates last weekend, the Bulls were soaking up the sun's rays and wetting a line. "A few of us went fishing last Sunday and didn't worry about rugby too much," Kelly said.

"Another few of the boys spent a lot of time just relaxing and enjoying themselves which is important because grand finals don't come around very often," he said.

This Saturday is a culmination of a year's worth of hard work where player numbers started at 20 at the first training session, before gradually increasing and hitting 50 by April.

"We turned up mid-January and had 20 guys, and each training session we'd have two or three more turn up until we had 50 turn up. We were nearly going to lock the gate at one stage," Kelly said.

The Bulls started the season with a hard-fought win over Pirates and the nature of that game ensured they knew what to expect for the season ahead.

"We had Pirates first up and we were dominant in that game until the last 10 minutes when we let a few tries in. We had another few close ones throughout the year but to go undefeated all the way until the final round was a surprise."

Kelly knows the grand final will be a tough encounter on Saturday but was confident in his side's ability to perform under pressure.

"They're a good bunch of boys and they deserve it. They've been top of the table all year, despite the fact we've changed a few things, which the boys have responded well to.

"I'm confident we can beat them because we can play a hell of a lot better than what we provided against Pirates a few weeks ago and that was good enough," he said.

There was a lot of talk at Tuesday's training session with very few balls hitting the deck.

If that was a sign of what's to come and with another training session scheduled for Thursday, the Bulls will be ready to charge at Narrabri from the kick-off.

"This Saturday is big for both the club and all the people in the background that have put in a lot of hard work over the year," Kelly said. "We learnt in 2011 that it hurts to lose one and we don't want that feeling again on Saturday."

The Bulls fight for the ball in a line out.

Honorary member

"DON'T stop playing until the whistle blows" was the advice of Kay Brasell who has been a volunteer for the Weebolla Bulls since 2001.

Mrs Brasell became involved with the Bulls when her son Guy and husband John started to play and coach, and thought she may as well lend the club a hand as well.

Over the years she has been presented 'clubman of the year' five times and has recently been named an honorary member of the club.

"I started volunteering in the canteen in 2002 and have kept helping out in there ever since. There have been many highlights during the 11 or so years," she said.

Mrs Brasell told the Moree Champion her best memory of the club was in 2002 when the under 19s team won the premiership by one point at full-time.

"They were down three points and just as the full-time whistle blew the Bulls got a penalty and ran away with it to win the game. Guy was the captain of the under 19s and John was coaching them at the time," she said.

The aspect of ladies day each year was also a highlight of Mrs Brasell's.

"Seeing the day go from a little luncheon to raising funds for various charities was a great thing, not to mention that each year it was held, more people would get involved," she said.

Ladies day has donated funds to the McGrath Foundation, Cancer Support, Prostate Cancer, CanAssist, Angel Flight and other local and existing charities.

"There is now a new generation of players coming into the club which is also a great thing to see. As well as players you used to see in the juniors bringing their wives and children to the games," she said.

Kay Brasell has been volunteering for years.

Mrs Brasell assured us the canteen would be ready to serve all locals and visitors at the weekend with about eight canteen ladies recruited for the job.

"We are going to have the normal favourites like hot dogs and steak sandwiches and we'll also have roast pork and gravy rolls," she said.

There will also be clothing available as usual for anyone who wants to get into the Bulls spirit at the weekend.

"Congratulations to the players and coaches on making the grand final and I wish them the best of luck."

2013 Rugby Union Grand Final

Like throwing a red devil at a bull

MOREE coach Josh Connell believes grand finals are partially won between the ears.

The other half, obviously is what happens on the field.

And his side will have their work cut out this weekend in the 2013 Central North Rugby Union reserve grade grand final against Gunnedah.

The Red Devils earned the right to challenge Moree for the premiership after accounting for Narrabri 34-8 in last week's preliminary final.

In doing so it gave them the chance to defend their 2012 title and Connell said his side were up for the challenge.

"Gunnedah are last year's premiers so we know what to expect. We respect them, but we also know we've got a job to do."

Moree started the season on fire, registering wins in their first five games.

"It's been a long-held belief that if you win your first five games in the season you set yourself up well for success later in the season," Connell said.

"We've had 51 blokes go through reserve grade this year and the most pleasing aspect of the year has been our defence. But there's a difference between defending and enjoying defending. The boys have enjoyed getting down and dirty at times this year."

And they'll need to do it one more time against a well-drilled and mobile Gunnedah side, but the Bulls do have the luxury of the week off last weekend.

"They rotate their big men well and have a dominant scrum which we will need to counter. There's not a lot of change from Narrabri. They play a similar way," he said.

"Gunnedah will get their big men running at our smaller blokes and they've got a good driving maul so we'll need to be at our best to minimise that as best we can."

With all three Bulls sides competing in the grand final, expectations around town are high but Connell said it was something which should be embraced.

"The expectations are massive on the whole club, but we know we're not forcing the boys to do anything they haven't already done this year."

Eighteens fight to defend title

GET off to a good start.

That will be the message from Moree Bulls under 18s coach Kylie Dawson for her boys on Saturday when they contest the 2013 grand final with Tamworth Pirates.

It sounds easy, but with the pressure associated with such an important match you don't want to be playing catch-up.

"The first 10 minutes is critical," she said. "These kids are aware of what they need to do so I don't need to add anything extra."

The Bulls contested the 2012 grand final and emerged with a comprehensive 44-15 win.

The experience gained from that day should ensure nerves are at a minimum on Saturday.

Most know what to expect.

"The fact they won it last year means they're probably a little more excited about this weekend than they might have been at the same time 12 months ago.

"We've got a few survivors from that team."

Dawson said it could be seen as a negative for her side to be playing the same team they accounted for a fortnight ago in the major semi-final because it provided the opportunity for Pirates to get their own game in order.

"I went and watched them (Pirates) last week and noticed they adapted the same strategies we used on them against Narrabri and it proved successful.

"It gave me the opportunity to come up with some of my own ideas to counteract the fact they'll try to use our strategies on us this weekend."

Moree's 37-13 victory in the major semi-final looked more comprehensive in the end after they ran in a couple of late tries.

"It was a physical game and we're expecting more of the same this weekend, but the fact we had last week off means the boys should be a little fresher which is important in a grand final.

"The kids know they need to be switched on."

There's a blanket feeling of excitement around the club and Dawson said the under 18s were looking forward to kicking off with success in front of family and friends after doing it all away from home last year.

"We were the only team from the club in the final last year and it felt isolated going to Walcha.

"The difference this year is that all three grades have made it and we get to start the ball rolling on Saturday."

After finishing the regular season with the minor premiership, Moree head into this weekend's match knowing what works, and Dawson didn't expect her side to change their game plan.

"We've tinkered a bit with certain things, but we won't deviate away too much.

"The kids will rise to the challenge this weekend. They've learnt the art of patience in a game this year and that will be very important in such a big game. They know what they have to do."
